Economic Task Force

Meeting Notes

3-26-20

Convened at 10:10

1. Introduced Task Force origin and purpose as assigned by the Emergency Services Council. No specific direction provided, it has been left to the Task Force to determine our organization and structure and establish processes and objectives. It was discussed that the Task Force was created with the understanding that it is a tumultuous time and should focus on two economic components of 1. Facilitating the needs of essential services 2. Assisting shuttered businesses through the current pause and future economic re-start. It was determined that the task force should be representative of all Kodiak business entities and work for the betterment of the entire Kodiak Economy during this time of crisis.
2. In attendance: Sarah Phillips (Chamber), James Turner (Assembly member), John Whiddon (City Council), Capt Dailey (USCG), Stacey Simmons (Koniag), Duncan Fields (Seafood harvesters), Julie Bonney (Processors), Mark Anderson (Banking), Dan Rohrer (Retail/business). Each member provided a brief bio and background information. Minutes are to be taken at each meeting. Agendas are to be provided prior to each meeting and to include items to be accomplished and measured at each meeting.
3. Discussed group organization structure. Chamber Director to lead meetings and Chamber will be the central collection and dissemination point of information.
4. Discussed who to include in updates regarding the Task Force efforts, identified needs and sources for potential assistance at the State and Federal levels. Also discussed industry organizations that could provide support or assistance.
5. Chamber has initiated a business survey. Data still being collected. Discover Kodiak initiated a survey of the tourism industry. More information coming as data is collated.
6. Known and immediate economic needs:
  - a. Chamber (Sarah Phillips): Local businesses need information on funding and assistance that is immediately available. Concern over bridge funding to cover immediate expenses and obligations.
  - b. Processors (James Turner): H1 visas (skilled workers) currently on hold; H2V visas (general workers) on hold. Result in lack of employees in critical and regular processing workers. Additional costs to bring employees to Kodiak due to reduced travel capacity and then need to quarantine coming employees.
  - c. City (John Whiddon): City budget is comprised up to 55% by sales tax revenue. A reduction in revenue will impact the budget and potentially the ability to provide services.

- d. Discover Kodiak/Small Business Committee Chair (Chamber) (Aimee Williams): Promoting gift cards and buy local. Awaiting results from Discover Kodiak Impact survey.
  - e. Coast Guard (Capt Dailey): Large work force that is primarily financial stable and better able to weather the storm. Will be an impact where dependents who are employed on the economy are faced with lay offs or reduced hours.
  - f. Retail/business (Dan Rohrer): Sales reductions due to the “hunker down” proclamations; concern over employee availability with school closures. Mentioned that shift from eating in restaurants has pushed public to grocery stores and volumes of people in grocery stores and inability to maintain social distancing. Voiced opposition to eliminating City sales tax since it doesn’t necessarily change spending patterns.
  - g. Harvesters (Duncan Fields): Fish prices anticipated to be volatile due to global market disruptions. Concern over processing worker availability.
  - h. Processors (Julie Bonney): Relaying information about how her office is disseminating information. Rockfish season upcoming. Need to communicate that the seafood industry is up and operating.
  - i. Banking (Mark Anderson): Stated that the importance of determining the roles of the Task Force – focusing on communications and measurement. Recommended creation of a website as an information portal as an effective way to leverage the efforts of the Task Force addressing COVID-19 impacts on the business community.
  - j. Koniag (Stacey Simmons): Rural communities greatly affected by any impacts to fishing. Communicating to the business community is vital to sustaining our business community.
7. Chamber will be conducting outreach to the business community with updates to social media pages, personal outreach, and PSA’s.
8. General comments:
- a. Dan Rohrer pointed out the need for the municipal governments to be aware of revenue streams in developing their respective budgets.
  - b. Discussed creation of a business resource specific website. Chamber and Discover Kodiak to take point and create and manage website.
  - c. Discussed concept of establishing a business mentor program to assist businesses in immediate distress.
  - d. Julie requested assistance from Federal and State lobbyists to provide information on availability and types of assistance available.
  - e. Family first corona virus assistance regulations are complicated and would be beneficial to have assistance available.
  - f. Duncan – important to document all actions that businesses take during the crisis to validate needed data for any future loans or damage assessments
9. Next meeting:
- a. Tentatively next meeting will be at 1130, Monday March 30.

b. Will work with Clerk's office to resolve teleconference issues.

1. Roll call: Sarah Phillips; Julie Bonney; Mark Anderson; Aimee Williams; Stacey Simmons; John Whiddon; Duncan Fields; James Turner. Additional participants: Elaina Spraker (Sen Sullivan); Tyler Kornelis (KANA).
2. Added an agenda item: Group to remain with current composition until a need to expand is identified. Additional members of public will be able to call in but there is currently no room for public comment. Meeting agenda and notes will be published on the new website to ensure transparency. A brief explanation of the origin of the group will be posted to explain the goals and objectives and charter for the task force.
3. Discussed concept of developing list of mentors to assist individual business and organizations with navigating the business closures and corresponding economic slowdowns. Need to identify the purpose and scope of the mentor program. Elaina Spraker (Sen Sullivan's office) commented that the Econ Task Force can be a central point for information distribution. Duncan Fields requested that the $300M relief for fisheries is inadequate and should be increased. City and Borough will work with industry stakeholders to quickly draft and submit a letter to our congressional delegation reflecting our needs.
  - Aimee Williams discussed mentor program. The mentor program was an original group formed from the Chamber Small Business Committee and can be extended into this task force as a way for businesses to reach out to the Chamber for assistance and be assigned a mentor willing to help the business through ups and downs. John Whiddon, Alex Turner, Chris Lynch, and Julie Bonney have all offered to assist within their capacities. Aimee and Sarah will continue to find additional mentor possibilities.
4. Aimee Williams updated on the progress of the website www.kodiakeconomictaskforce.com
  - Julie suggested everyone review and comment
  - James Turner suggested addition of travel mandates
  - Stacey suggested a bulletin for health mandates
  - Recommended a link for PCS (inbound) Coast Guard families
  - Aimee and Sarah will continue work on website
  - Chamber/Discover Kodiak will work on outreach via KMXT; Daily Mirror and social channels to get broadest dissemination – All information for website notes should be sent to info@kodiak.org
  - Julie suggested Task Force review website and links and respond within 24 hours
5. SBA loan program assistance. Chamber to be resource to connect businesses with appropriate resources.
  - If a local bank is certified as a SBA lender, they will be able to process SBA loans
  - Mark to contact other banks to determine policies relative to CARE loans as well as banks offering standardized special payment deferral programs.
6. Outreach: Senators Sullivan and Murkowski have been contacted and are engaged. They view the Task Force as a valuable central collection point for information exchange. Task Force expectation of both state and federal legislators will be for their staff to assist with parsing information vital to processing financial assistance or responding to mandates. Sen Stevens and Rep Stutes office contacted; AML and City lobbyists contacted.

- Duncan: salmon fishermen to make a decision by end of April regarding operating their salmon season. Challenges with travel and quarantines will impact decision. Seinners and setnetters will have different impacts based on crew needs and season start times.
  - Julie discussed the variables that will impact the decision, i.e. salmon prices. Offered that the Task Force has no direct role in this decision process
  - James discussed worker visa regulations. Requested a summary of the visa programs to be submitted to the ESC for an informational update
  - KANA grant options: Tyler Kornelis. No specific details on current funding opportunities. Anticipates that there will be funding forthcoming and will be willing to identify opportunities when they materialize

MEMORANDUM

To: Mike Tvenge
City Manager

From: Charles A. Cacciola

Date: April 1, 2020

Re: SB 241 - Utility Billing & COVID-19

The legislature, as part of a COVID-19 relief law (SB 241),<sup>1</sup> has restricted utilities' authority to shut off service to certain residential customers affected by the emergency and restricts the imposition of late fees on such customer accounts. The effect of the law on utilities, including the customer's and utility's obligations, are explained below.

The new law continues in effect until the earlier of November 15, 2020 or the governor determining that a public health emergency no longer exists.

A. CUSTOMER'S OBLIGATION & RIGHTS

Only natural persons may seek protection under this new law. It does not apply to business entities. Second, the law's protection is not available to everyone: It applies only to residential customers who are experiencing financial hardship related to the COVID-19 public health emergency. The customer must provide a declaration under penalty of perjury that the person is experiencing financial hardship related to COVID-19. This does not mean the person

---

<sup>1</sup> SB 241 passed Sunday, March 29 and has been sent to the governor. To date, it has not been signed. It is not effective until signed, though we expect that the governor will soon sign it.

must have COVID-19, be taking care of someone who does, or have lost a job. A utility should accept the customer's declaration in good-faith.<sup>2</sup>

A customer who provides a declaration of hardship is entitled to several things. First, if the utility disconnected a residential service on or after March 11, 2020 for non-payment, it must make reasonable efforts to resume providing service to the residence. Similarly, the utility cannot disconnect service to such a customer during the public health emergency.

A customer is not totally excused from paying utility charges, including any arrears. Payments are only deferred. The customer is required to negotiate a deferred payment agreement with the utility and must adhere to the agreement to avoid late fees and interest (though the utility still cannot shut off service during the emergency even if the customer does not follow the deferred payment agreement).

The deferred payment agreement terms the utility must offer are explained below.

B. UTILITY'S OBLIGATION & RIGHTS

As noted above, a utility receiving a residential customer's declaration of hardship from COVID-19 must not terminate service for non-payment and must resume service if it was terminated on or after March 11, 2020.

The law requires the utility to offer the affected customer an agreement "allowing repayment over a period of time not shorter than the period of time of the public health disaster emergency declared by the governor on March 11, 2020 as extended by Sec. 2 of this Act." It is not entirely clear what this means, particularly when the duration of the emergency is unknown. Given the intent of the law, we recommend that the utility offer a deferred payment agreement that, at a minimum, provides:

1. Customer makes no regular or deferred payments until the earlier of:
  - a. Governor declaring the emergency over,
  - b. November 15, 2020, or
  - c. Customer is no longer experiencing financial hardship related to COVID-19.
2. Customer resumes regular payments upon the earlier of the events described above.

<sup>2</sup> A person submitting a false affidavit could be subject to civil and criminal penalties.

3. Upon the earlier of the events described above, each month for six months, customer pays 1/6th of the total amount of deferred payments.<sup>3</sup>
4. No interest or late fees for any deferred payments if the customer pays amounts as they become due under the deferred payment agreement.<sup>4</sup>

The new law states that the time period for repayment set forth in item No. 3 above is a minimum. The utility could, for example, provide a 12-month repayment period. As the customer will need to make regular payments in addition to the deferred payments, some utilities may wish to provide longer repayment periods to residential customers experiencing financial hardship.

The new law does NOT require the utility to forgive any amount. Similarly, to the extent the utility is otherwise authorized by law, it may claim liens for any delinquent amount.

The new law provides residential customers additional protection, superseding any tariff, ordinance, or contract provision that provides less protection. The new law should NOT be read as eliminating greater protections that presently exist in a tariff, ordinance, or contract provision. For example, if a utility normally shuts of service after 90 days for non-payment, it must still follow that limitation even if the customer does not provide a declaration of financial hardship necessary for the customer to seek the protection of the new law.

Please let us know if you have any questions regarding the effect of the COVID-19 relief law on your utilities.

<sup>3</sup> Strictly speaking, the period for repayment is equal to the duration of the health emergency. This is ultimately unknown, but is presently limited to six months. Rather than use a moving target, we recommend using the six-month period currently contemplated by the law.

<sup>4</sup> The new law does not require a utility to forgive any arrears, late charges, or interest that accrued prior to March 11, 2020. Any amounts due prior to March 11, 2020 should be considered amounts on which payment is deferred so no further interest should accrue as long as the customer follows the deferred payment agreement.
